

Inspector East Denmark

Would you like to become trained as an inspector, conducting daily visits to the food industry? Your role would involve extending the lifespan of process installations and providing valuable advice to customers. This is an excellent opportunity for you to make a meaningful contribution to the industry.

About Bactoforce A/S:

Bactoforce A/S is a reputable company specializing in hygiene inspections of process equipment in the food industry. We provide crucial insights into the technical hygienic condition and lifetime of equipment, enabling our clients to maintain the highest standards of safety and product quality. Our services, which include non-destructive testing (NDT), help our clients make informed decisions about hygienic maintenance.

Job Description:

As an Inspector at Bactoforce A/S, you will play a vital role in ensuring the hygiene and safety of equipment in the food industry. Your responsibilities will include conducting independent and team-based hygiene inspections, generating digital reports based on your findings, and providing direct advice to clients on-site. You will work in Denmark but travel to other Nordic countries will be required.

Key Responsibilities:

- Conduct hygiene inspections of process equipment in the food industry;
- Perform inspections independently or as part of a team;
- Generate digital reports based on inspection results;
- Provide on-site advice to clients;
- Participate in the planning and coordination of inspections;
- Contribute to ongoing business development activities.

Your Profile:

- Relevant education in food technology, with a strong understanding of production processes, equipment, and microbiology;
- Preferable living in East Denmark;
- Experience in the food industry, preferably in the dairy sector;
- Strong attention to quality, technical details, and safety;
- Service-oriented, flexible, and customer-friendly;
- Willingness to travel within the Nordic countries.

What We Offer:

- Join a team of experienced and motivated professionals in a growing company;
- Enjoy a varied job with a high degree of freedom and independence;
- Opportunity to participate in different training and certification programs, such as IRATA or NDT.
